FOR WHO?

This webinar series is for high school students with intellectual and developmental disabilities who are 16 to 21 years old and have a desire to go to college in the future. Participants should feel confident in utilizing web conferencing technology or have someone available to assist them during the sessions.

GOING TO COLLEGE: WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT?

This 4-day evening pre-college webinar series provides exposure to a college class experience. During this series, students attend interactive WebEx sessions about safety in the community, health & wellbeing, employment, and college success. This series accepts up to 20 participants (10 each session).

PARTICIPANTS WILL...

- Learn about self-determination, social connections & goal setting
- Learn safety habits and behaviors for on-campus and off campus settings
- Gain familiarity with technology typically used on a college campus
- Discuss social rules and boundaries
- Acquire knowledge about legal rights for accommodations
- Have access to resources which provide support for the college application process
