If students are planning to continue into the Doctoral Completion track, we strongly encourage taking our bridge course. Students may take ED 868: Dissertation Discernment, a 3-credit bridge course, during spring semester. This 3-credit course will help students refine their research question, work on a literature review, and explore methodologies. If students take ED 868, the 3 credits will be applied towards the 30 credits in the doctoral completion program.
